SOUTHWEST SOCIETY OF ORAL AND MAXILLOFACIAL SURGEONS ANNUAL MEETING
- IN COLLABORATION WITH -
OSTEO SCIENCE FOUNDATION

APRIL 4 - 6 • ELDORADO HOTEL & SPA • SANTA FE, NM
Dear Friends and Colleagues:

The 2019 Combined Annual Meeting of the Southwest Society of OMS, the Texas Society of OMS, and the Midwestern OMS Chapter, in collaboration with Osteo Science Foundation, will be held April 4-6, at the Eldorado Hotel and Spa in beautiful Santa Fe, New Mexico.

We are excited to welcome you and your guests to this exuberant, magical city steeped in history and renowned for its Native American and contemporary artisans, culture, and breathtaking scenery. Whether you’re looking for adventure, an exciting round of golf, or a great restaurant - Santa Fe delivers it all.

The excitement continues during this year’s annual meeting program. We’ve put together an unbeatable combination of educational programs, social and networking opportunities, and our popular exhibit hall. You’ll find:

• Up to 10 hours of continuing dental and medical education credits.
• The Keynote Lecture delivered by Jay P. Malmquist, DMD, past chair and current board member of Osteo Science Foundation, who will discuss the latest research and techniques relating to dental implants, bone regeneration, and bone grafting.
• The Byrd-Tilson-Walker Residents’ Day Program, which will again showcase some of our most talented residents and the research they are conducting at our residency programs.
• Educational sessions addressing anesthesia and other pressing issues confronting the specialty.
• The wide-ranging Exhibit Hall, which offers attendees ample, uninterrupted time to learn about the products and services busy OMS practices use every day.

In addition, you will enjoy such fun-filled events as Friday evening’s Welcome Reception, the optional golf tournament, and Saturday’s President’s Event.

Please take a moment to review the information in this brochure and register for the 2019 SWSOMS Combined Annual Meeting today.

On behalf of the SWSOMS, the TSOMS, the Midwestern OMS Chapter, and Osteo Science Foundation, we encourage you to begin planning for this exciting weekend and to secure your hotel reservations at Santa Fe’s Eldorado Hotel & Spa.

Sincerely,

IS PROUD TO SPONSOR TRAVEL SCHOLARSHIPS FOR OMFS RESIDENTS

The purpose of the scholarship is to provide financial assistance to OMFS residents to attend the SWSOMS Combined Annual Meeting in collaboration with Osteo Science Foundation, and provide OMFS residents with relevant continuing education courses while enabling them to learn more about the practice of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery.

The award will be granted to support 10 residents up to $500 each. The award monies will be disbursed within 30 days following the conclusion of the 2019 SWSOMS Combined Annual Meeting.

Interested residents must complete the award application found on Osteo Science Foundation and SWSOMS’ websites and submit it to the SWSOMS by Friday, March 15, 2019. Award recipients will be notified by email on Friday, March 22, 2019.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

Accreditation

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of PeerPoint Medical Education Institute, LLC and Osteo Science Foundation. The PeerPoint Medical Education Institute, LLC is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Designation

The PeerPoint Medical Education Institute, LLC designates this live activity for a maximum of 11 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. 11 CDE credits will also be provided. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Byrd-Tilson-Walker Residents' Day Presentations
8:00 am - Noon (4 hrs. CDE/CME)

Outstanding young oral and maxillofacial surgery residents from the Southwestern and Midwestern regions will present scientific and clinical research initiatives ongoing at their respective institutions of study.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this activity, the learner will be able to:

1. Discuss a broad overview of the extensive clinical scope of oral and maxillofacial surgery residency training programs.

2. Inform oral and maxillofacial surgeons in private practice about current advances in treatment modalities, new treatment techniques and procedures, and innovative technological applications that improve patient outcomes.

3. Encourage future oral and maxillofacial surgeons to remain involved in clinical research throughout their careers and to support the expertise and evolution of the specialty.

CONSIDER THE FUTURE OF DENTAL OFFICE-BASED ANESTHESIA

1:00 - 4:00 pm (3 hrs. CDE/CME)

Office anesthesia update-Anesthesia for the Aging Patient
David M. Grogan, DDS, MSD, Department Chair, Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery, Texas A&M College of Dentistry

Morbidity & Mortality through the eyes of an Expert Witness
Roger P. Byrne, DDS, MD, Oral & Facial Surgery, PA, Houston, Texas

Learning Objectives
1. List four errors in patient selection that can lead to anesthetic complications.
2. Describe six components of a well-structured in situ simulation training program.
3. Discuss six errors made during resuscitation attempts that are most likely to lead to poor outcomes.
4. Review several cases with severe adverse outcomes as a result of anesthetic complications.
Roger P. Byrne, DDS, MD

Roger P. Byrne, DDS, MD, has practiced the full-scope of oral and maxillofacial surgery, with an emphasis on office-based anesthesia, removal of third molars, dental implants, and facial cosmetic surgery, in Houston, Texas since 1974. After earning his dental degree from the University of Texas Dental Branch Houston, Dr. Byrne completed his OMS residency at the University of Texas Health Science Center, and earned his medical degree at the Texas Tech University School of Medicine, where he also completed a fellowship in Plastic Surgery at the University’s Department of Surgery, Division of Plastic Surgery. Dr. Byrne is a past president of the Texas State Board of Dental Examiners, the Texas Society of Oral & Maxillofacial Surgeons, and the Southwest Society of Oral & Maxillofacial Surgeons. As a member of the TSBDE, Dr. Byrne helped write the initial law that set standards of care for office-based anesthesia in the dental office. Dr. Byrne has no financial relationships to disclose.

David M. Grogan, DDS, MSD

David M. Grogan, DDS, MSD, is the Department Chair for Oral & Maxillofacial Surgery at Texas A&M University College of Dentistry.

Dr. Grogan earned his DDS, MSD, and completed his OMS residency at Baylor College of Dentistry. Dr. Grogan is a member and former chair of the AAOMS Committee on Anesthesia, and has authored numerous publications on parenteral sedation and office emergency preparedness for oral and maxillofacial surgery practices. Dr. Grogan received the AAOMS Committee Person of the Year award in 2014. He has no financial relationships to disclose.
Jay P. Malmquist, DMD

Jay P. Malmquist, DMD, is an oral and maxillofacial surgeon with advanced training and experience with dental implants, bone regeneration, and bone grafting. He has authored numerous articles and several chapters in textbooks on implants, bone grafting, and bone regeneration. Dr. Malmquist also lectures nationally and internationally on implant surgery and bone grafting. He pursued extensive research on bone physiology and regeneration at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia, and is now actively engaged in research protocols in the evolution of bone proteins and bone grafting techniques. Dr. Malmquist has shared his knowledge with others as a professor at Oregon Health Science University, contributing to the education of students and residents in the Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery. He maintains a private OMS practice in Portland, Oregon, and is a member and past chair of Osteo Science Foundation’s Board of Directors.

All reported relevant conflicts of interest have been resolved by the SWSOMS Planning Committee as of 12/01/2018.

SATURDAY, APRIL 6, 2019

Keynote Lecture: Advances in Bone Regeneration Therapies

8:00 am - Noon (4 Hrs. CDE/CME)

Jay P. Malmquist, DMD, Past Chairman and Member of the Board of Directors, Osteo Science Foundation

Many advances have occurred over the last several years in surgical implant dentistry and regenerative therapies. It is essential for the practicing OMS to understand the science and clinical applications of procedures performed every day. Evidence for bone regeneration vs. “graftless” solutions is a source of controversy in the field today. Implant survival is greater than 95% in most short-term and some long-term studies, but these favorable outcomes depend greatly on proper case selection, careful diagnosis, comprehensive treatment planning, and skillful execution of restorative and surgical techniques.

Learning Objectives

1. Discuss complex implant therapy, focusing on diagnosis and treatment planning.
2. Describe available evidence for bone regeneration vs. “graftless” implant therapy in the edentulous maxilla.
3. Identify risk factors, properly diagnose and treat peri-implant diseases.
Karin K. Wittich, CAE

Karin K. Wittich, CAE, is the American Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons’ Associate Executive Director, Practice Management and Governmental Affairs. Her daily involvement with the members of AAOMS, third party payers, federal and state legislators enables her to actively advocate for and work closely with the oral and maxillofacial surgery community. Prior to joining the AAOMS 16 years ago, she was the practice administrator for an OMS ambulatory surgery center. In 2017, Ms. Wittich was elected an Honorary Fellow of the AAOMS in recognition of her outstanding contributions to the specialty, the association, and its fellows and members.

STATE OF THE SPECIALTY IN 2019

Upon completion of this learning activity, participants will be informed about emerging issues and trends that are impacting the specialty. Additionally, practice management and reimbursement challenges will be discussed along with solutions and examples of how to improve your billing and collections. Information about state and federal issues, including the delivery of anesthesia will be discussed as will the ongoing trends related to management of acute and post-operative pain. Importantly, information about clinical data registries will also be discussed and examples of data collection to date.

• Emerging trends and best practices in administration of the OMS practice
• Increasing awareness of potential changes to reimbursement models
• Enhancing practice policies related to contracting with third-party payers
• Understanding the importance of inter-professional relationships
• Communicating effectively with state dental boards regarding anesthesia incident reporting
• Ensuring safe and appropriate prescribing practices and habits
• Ensuring proper safeguards are in place to most effectively improve clinical record documentation and understand its importance
• Recognizing the importance of participating in a national specialty registry
Santa Fe, New Mexico is a magical, exuberant, colorful journey at any time of year, but particularly in the Spring. Nestled against a backdrop of the majestic Sangre de Cristo mountains and the spectacular sunsets over the Jemez range, the effect is magical.

The nation’s oldest capital city, Santa Fe, is home to artists, chefs, wellness experts, and other creative dreamers who have brought their culture, talents and experience with them to meld with Santa Fe’s unique blend of Anglo, Spanish and Native Cultures.

The early Native American inhabitants called it “Dancing Ground of the Sun” while the founding frontiersman at the turn of the 20th century referred to it as “The City Different.” Those nicknames still hold true today, as you’ll see for yourself.

Santa Fe Weather

April daytime temperatures in Santa Fe average about 65 degrees with nighttime lows in the mid-40’s. This time of year, you may expect 10 hours per day of sunshine. It is suggested that you dress in layers to accommodate the changes in temperature. Dress for the SWSOMS Combined Annual Meeting is Business Casual.
